Guy H. Eaton Passes Away

A few short weeks ago Phillips Academy's alumni and faculty paid tribute to Guy H. Eaton, long-time mathematics instructor who was forced by illness to give up his teaching career. Tuesday night at Pine Point, Maine, at the summer home where for so many years his respected namesake and colleague, "Pap" Eaton, had spent his summers, Mr. Eaton passed away suddenly.

Funeral services will be held at Cochran Chapel at three tomorrow afternoon, with interment to follow in the academy cemetery.

Held in very high regard at the academy and in the town alike, Mr. Eaton had devoted the major part of his life to Phillips Academy. Prior to his coming here in 1909, he had been an instructor at West Jersey Military Academy, principal of a Lebanon school, submaster of Maynard High and principal of Medway High. He graduated from St. Lawrence University in 1903.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Marion C. Eaton; a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Freeman of Washington, D. C.; a daughter, Miss Elaine of Andover, and a son, Norman, who just graduated from Phillips.

Swimming Classes Begin At Ponds

Registration of Ponds Pond bathers began yesterday and will continue through the week. Classes in Red Cross Life Saving and in swimming for beginners are now being formed, and advanced swimming instruction may be arranged for those interested.

The schedule of classes is as follows: Red Cross Life Saving with Frank McBride, Jr., in charge, assisted by Fred Eastman and Donald D. Dunn: juniors, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 10:00 a.m. and seniors, Mondays and Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m.; swimming lessons in charge of Robert Hackney, assisted by Robert Towne and Robert Bisset: beginners, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. and for adults, Tuesdays and Fridays at 7:00 p.m.

Name Mrs. Sanborn West Center Teacher

Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn, widow of the late superintendent of schools, was elected a teacher in the local public schools at a special school board meeting Tuesday night. She will take the place of the former Irene Wells who, having been married, submitted her resignation Tuesday night. Mrs. Sanborn will teach at the West Center school, with Miss Louise Sherman transferred from there to the Jackson school.

Mrs. Sanborn came here in 1927 as Dorothy Farnham to teach drawing. Her earlier experience included over ten years of teaching second graders. In 1932 she resigned to become Mrs. Sanborn.

Unusual Compliment

For "never having tried to place young men in state jobs" the Andover Young Men's Republican club this week received a complimentary letter from Edward D. Sirois, chairman of the Republican state committee. Apparently most young political organizations have a job-hunting complex, but Andover's Young Republicans are not so minded.

Planning G. O. P. Moonlight Cruise

A number of Andover young people are planning to go on the G. O. P. moonlight cruise to be held by the Republican Club of Massachusetts and the Young Republicans of Massachusetts, next Thursday, leaving Foster's Wharf, next to Rowe's Wharf at 8:15. The cruise will go down the north shore to Marblehead, returning at midnight. Politics as a subject is taboo.

On the Andover committee are John M. MacKenzie, Dr. Earl J. Waddington and Irving J. Whitcomb.

Playground Events

The Central, Shawsheen and Ballardvale playgrounds are planning to hold a combined picnic at Canobie Lake, July 16, with buses leaving the Central playground at 10:00. Tickets at twenty-five cents should be purchased in advance for those over four years old who are planning to attend. Children under that age will be admitted free of charge. Each child is expected to bring a box lunch.

The playgrounds will be closed in the afternoon, Tuesday, the day of the picnic, but will reopen in the evening at 7:00.

A soap bubble contest will be held in all three playgrounds Friday evening at 7:15.

Handiwork was begun this week and the playground department pledged to complete twelve dozen simple articles in the sewing line for the Red Cross. The older girls and mothers will help in this project.

Colorful flag drills and parades were held in the playgrounds last Friday as is the custom every year for the opening program.

Tournaments to begin next week will be announced at the playgrounds Friday evening.

At the meeting of the playground mothers Tuesday evening, plans were begun for the annual carnival which will be held later in the season.

THIMBLE CLUB ENJOYS PICNIC

About fifteen members of the Thimble club enjoyed a picnic luncheon, Tuesday, at the summer cottage of Mrs. Roland Thompson at Little Neck, Ipswich. Bathing was enjoyed and bridge was played in the afternoon.

The club will not meet until October.

W. P. A. Band Gives Splendid Performance

The medley of popular songs played by the WPA band of Merrimack Valley at the band concert last evening received the hearty approval of the younger generation which invaded the park and some of the appreciative young men accompanied the "Woodpecker's Song" and the "Beer Barrel Polka" in song. The former received such an inundation of applause that it was encored.

James H. Hildreth directed the band whose splendid interpretations of much-loved songs attracted a large audience to the park, and the concert closed with "America the Beautiful" and "Star Spangled Banner" at 9:30.

Horace M. Poynter of School street is slightly improved at the Phillips House, Boston, where he underwent an operation recently and is also recuperating from pneumonia.

A Coat Tale

The local police conducted a brief intensive hunt for a coat-owner this week, but their work was cut short by a lady who had she been reporting by television instead of telephone would have revealed a very red face to the chief. She had come to the station with a brand new coat which she said she had found in her car which she had parked on Main street. Police looked at the label and called local and Lawrence stores to see if they could remember any recent sale. Half-way through their investigation the distraught lady called to say that her husband had just asked her where the coat was. They had lent the car two days before to a couple—and the new coat, bought in Providence, had been left there by mistake.

C. I. O. WINS EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS AT TYER RUBBER

The United Rubber Workers of the C. I. O. received exclusive bargaining rights for the employees of Tyer Rubber company on Tuesday at a special election when they polled not only a majority of the votes cast but also a majority of the eligible votes.

Of the 581 voters eligible, there were 497 valid votes cast. Of these 344 signified their desire to be represented by the C. I. O. and 153 voted against it. There were five blanks, one void and one challenged.

Under the Labor Relations law, a majority of the votes having been in favor of C. I. O. representation, the C. I. O. will now be the only agency that can be recognized as a bargaining group, and the local union number 137 will represent not only its members but all employees. Heretofore, the union has represented just its members, this arrangement having continued satisfactorily for the past three years.

Tax Rate Ready Next Week

Andover's tax rate will be ready for announcement sometime next week, unless some unexpected delay comes in the work. The figures have to be approved by Paul Cole of the State Department of Corporations and Taxation.

ARRESTED AFTER HITTING PARKED CAR

Continued until July 16th was the case of Lester Abbott, B. P. W. employee, who yesterday morning was arrested by local police for operating under the influence of liquor. Abbott is alleged to have run into the rear of the car of Alfred Robb parked in front of his house at 94 North Main street, badly damaging both cars.

Four Thousand Watch Bonfire At Cricket Field

About 100 pounds of frankfurts were sold at the Cricket field last Wednesday and Thursday proving without the weeniest doubt the success of the holiday celebration planned and executed in ten short days by a committee of organizations of St. Augustine's church under the co-chairmanship of Francis Kelly and George Markey. James Doherty was in charge of sports.

The program opened July 3rd at six o'clock with the C. Y. O. baseball team defeating the St. Patrick's team of South Lawrence to the tune of 6-3. The victorious note having been struck, the senior C. Y. O. team followed up the junior lead with a score of 9-0 against St. Mary's, Lawrence. The latter was a forfeit game, the St. Mary's team withdrawing because they disapproved a decision. The Zecchini aerial acts included Mrs. Emily Zecchini's famous cloud swing and a novelty perch act by France and Lapell.

Reports of the snapcracker festival lured many people from their homes and by the time the bonfire was touched off, a little before twelve, over twenty-five hundred people were in the park and about fifteen hundred outside the gates.

Races and sports featured Thursday's activities with the following children winning the events:

Children under 7, Robert Brennan.

Children, 7 and 8, Catherine Grant and Francis Brennan.

Girls 9 and 10, Lorraine Grant and Helen Surette.

Boys 9 and 10, Frederick Dwyer and Laurence White.

Former Caddy Wins Club Championship

Paul Collins of Washington avenue became the Club Champion of the Andover Country club, Sunday, when he defeated Leo Mimno of Lawrence, 4 and 3. The local golfer has only been a member of the club three years and this is the first time he has won. At the end of the first eighteen, it looked as though Collins might have a hard time coming out on top, but after another nine, he was back in form and was ahead of Mimno by 4 holes. The scores were Collins 77 and 74, Mimno 74 and 79. Collins was a former caddy at the club.

Present Report On School Time

An intensive survey of the time allotment in the elementary schools was presented at the school board meeting Tuesday night by a special committee consisting of Joseph B. Doherty, chairman; Catherine M. Barrett and Anne M. Harnedy. Named several months ago by Superintendent Sherman to investigate the matter, the committee had worked all winter and spring, contacting other towns and state officials.

The report will be studied by the committee and acted upon later. The purpose of the recommendations resulting from the study "is not to establish a schedule to be followed exactly, but rather to help teachers in maintaining a school program of studies that carries the emphasis, balance and proportion in its various parts that children's needs seem to require."

Urges Admission Of Refugee Children

My dear Editor:

Daily the raids by air and sea become heavier upon the British Isles. The British Navy has thus far stood between us and the aggressor nation's attack. How much longer it can do so no man knows. This much is certain, that the will to resist will be stronger if the officers and men of those grey ships can know that their little ones and their wives are safe.

The will of the populace of the British Isles to carry on until victory is assured, likewise, will be strengthened if they, too, can feel that their children are safe from the marauders.

In the exact proportion that this resistance succeeds are we freed from the danger of attack over here.

Should the British, French, and Dutch Empires fall into the hands of the totalitarian nations, should Japan gain hegemony over Asia, we may definitely find the markets of the world usurped, no outlet for our vast over-production. We may confidently expect the aggressor nations, tuned to a high pitch of efficiency, to even invade our home markets, as they are already doing in South America; and, as there, accompanying their economic attack upon us with political upheavals of a grave nature. The pressure will gain force within the United States, if, and when, the subversive activities here and in neighboring countries succeed, and to the extent that they succeed. Our competitors are guided by no rules or principles save those of expediency and of personal advantage. Their success would ring in the downfall of American standards of living and of our wage scales.

This, however, will never be, provided we all unite in determination to prevent it. We can prevent it; but not by sitting still and doing nothing.

One thing we can do, over and above anything we are yet doing on a large scale, and that is to urge upon the Congress and the Senate of the United States to make the way clear in the immigration office for the admission of refugee children from the British Isles, and to do this at once. There is no time to lose.

Sincerely yours,
CORNELIUS A. WOOD

Against Committee To Aid Allies

Dear Editor:

For the benefit of those few misguided citizens who accepted membership in the "Committee To Defend America by Aiding the Allies," may I recall the following statement from the closing paragraph of America's Declaration of Independence from England which was adopted by Congress July 4, 1776.

"We therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved."

The so-called "Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies" was originally called together by Frederic R. Coudert, British propagandist, and definitely established April 29 in New York at a secret meeting of 18 prominent bankers. Among them was Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan.

For the kind information of those Americans who served in World War No. 1, Frederic R. Coudert, was on the payroll of the British government as legal advisor to the British Embassy. It was he who generated the propaganda which first won our sympathy, munitions, then credit and finally succeeded in taking our American boys to their deaths in Flanders.

Since the purpose of this committee is to strip our Nation of every implement of war which can be spared for England, extend credit to Britain which has refused to repay us the five billions of dollars already owed, and allow our youth, whom our Army and Navy needs, to enlist in England's Army, it has all the earmarks of a real Pro-British movement.

Our army is smaller than Switzerland's, we have only a one-ocean navy, a foreign controlled government, an over-burdened debt, airplane pilots but not enough planes, and yet, a committee dares to form on our shores to deliver our equipment, money and youth to a foreign nation.

Let me recall the words of Winston Churchill in a recent talk with William Griffin, editor and publisher of the New York Enquirer, for the members of this committee: "America's entrance into the war was disastrous," remarked Churchill, "not only for your country but for the Allies as well because had you stayed at home and Minded Your Own Business we would have made peace with the Central Powers in the spring of 1917 and have saved over one million British and French lives."

Incidentally, when Wendell Willkie, the Republican nominee for President, was questioned about the invitation he received to join this subversive committee, his reply was "I'm not attending meetings like that. We have the United States to think of first before anything or anyone else."

A Sincere American

Belated Sacrifice

"So great a sum means sacrifice." So said President Roosevelt yesterday in asking defense authorizations up to nearly five billion dollars additional, making the total to date since the invasion of Holland about 10 billion dollars. "So great a sum means sacrifice." It certainly does.

What the American people want to know is (1) why should this mean a sacrifice and (2) how much waste will there be in this ten billion dollars. Were Franklin Roosevelt as frank as he should be, he would have said to Congress yesterday: "I'm sorry. I foresaw this. I should have prepared for it by cutting down expenses so that I wouldn't have to come now to ask for increased taxes and increased bond limit, but I failed you. I splurged. I pump-primed, and it's all gone down the well now. So you, you the American people, are going to have to sacrifice." That would give the voters of this Nation the answer to their first question; the answer to the second would be: as long as this administration continues in power, there will be waste, plenty of it.

Yes, we want defense. We want an army, a navy, an air force so strong that no power or combination of powers would dare even think of attacking us. We'll spend ten billions, we'll spend twenty or thirty, we'll even spend the 75 billions that Germany has apparently spent. We'll sacrifice. We'll do anything to keep our freedom. But what we do insist on is that we get a dollar's worth of defense for every dollar we spend, and no one is convinced after seven years of New Deal performance that we'll get even 59 cents worth of defense for our dollar. It's a business, a mighty big business, and Franklin Roosevelt has amply proved that he can't handle the job.

We're not prepared so we'll have to sacrifice? Why weren't we prepared, Mr. Roosevelt? We didn't know this chaos could come? You knew, you said three years ago, "Let no one imagine this Western Hemisphere will not be attacked." Why didn't you do something about it? Why did you just go on "priming the pump?" For relief of all kinds in the past seven years, you spent 14 billion dollars, and in the W. P. A. authorizations you had incorporated this tell-tale clause: "None of the funds appropriated by this joint resolution shall be used for the manufacture, purchase, or construction of any naval vessel, any armament, munitions or implements of war for military or naval forces." Did you imagine this Western Hemisphere wouldn't be attacked? Or did you just want to spend this money not in private manufacture but in "public" jobs where votes are particularly helpful?

Today we have to sacrifice. We certainly do. We had the heaviest tax load the Nation has ever had before the Holland invasion; we had a debt load that had been doubled by Roosevelt in seven years. So if we want defense we will have to sacrifice as the President says, but we're going to come to the realization that a very important feature of our National Defense is the Chief Executive's office—and a change is needed there.

Andover Meets Methuen Tonight

Andover's Legion Junior team will try to break its string of eight consecutive defeats tonight when it meets the Methuen team at the playstead. Hope for a victory springs from the fact that Methuen hasn't done too well either, having won only two games in seven starts. Lawrence is leading the league with eight victories and two losses.

Sunday the locals play at Beverly and on the following Friday East Lynn comes here.

Last Friday North Andover rubbed it into the local team to the tune of 16 to 5. Two bases on balls, four hits and two errors, put North Andover ahead six runs in the first inning. Two more in the second, three in the third and five in the fifth completed the North Andover total, with 14 hits aiding in the rout. Andover made only three hits, but the five local runs were made on six bases on balls, an error and Moss' double.

TRAFFIC BOX CRASH COSTS DRIVER $50

John Lockwood of Derry, N. H., hit the traffic box in the square on the morning of July 3. Officer McBride didn't think he should have done it. This week the Lawrence District court agreed with McBride. John paid $50 for his alleged pre-motoring drinks.

Escapes Officers Gets Thirty Days

Thirty days in the House of Correction face a Boston man who thought a few nights ago that he had successfully eluded one Andover and two Lawrence policemen. For failing to stop for an officer he received ten days, for operating to endanger he received ten days, for operating after suspension of his license he received ten days. He appealed.

Officer Carl Stevens had chased the speeding car into Lawrence and a Lawrence cruising car with officers McQuade and Clark chased the car and Stevens. The Boston man escaped from the car, but the owner of the car was still in it and endeavored to assume the responsibility. Charged with a number of things, he was finally fined 10 dollars for allowing an improper person to operate an automobile.
